

Spitfire wins third successive CN Award for SIP Communicator™ hosted solution

29 October 2015

Spitfire, the multi-award winning Internet telephony service provider and ISP, has won the Best Hosted Platform category of the prestigious Comms National Awards. Spitfire won the award for its SIP Communicator™ hosted telephony service. This is the third consecutive year that SIP Communicator™ has won the Comms National Award, widely acknowledged as a benchmark of excellence within the telecoms industry and organised by Comms Dealer magazine.

The cloud based SIP Communicator™ hosted telephony service only requires SIP compatible handsets, making the service an extremely cost-effective solution for business start-ups and small businesses that are growing and anticipate moving premises or are spread over multiple sites.

Spitfire also came second in the Best ISP category, winning the accolade "Highly Commended". Spitfire offers customers a wide portfolio of highly competitive connectivity solutions including ADSL, ADSL Annex M, SDSL, VDSL2 and Ethernet over copper and fibre.

The Comms National Awards celebrate and reward excellence in the provision of ICT solutions. The Awards are judged by an independent panel of industry experts and Spitfire's winning and highly commended entries were chosen ahead of other finalists and many more entries that failed to make finalist status.

For Spitfire, Tom Fellowes, Sales Director commented, "We are of course delighted to have won a prestigious Comms National Award for SIP Communicator™ for the third year running and to be runner-up for our Best ISP entry. The judges again recognised that SIP Communicator™ has some significant advantages over rival services. Because Spitfire is a business ISP our SIP Communicator™ platform is designed as an end-to-end service to guarantee QoS, overcoming one of the biggest objections to moving to cloud based telephony. Our third Comms National Award shows that SIP Communicator™ is a winning solution for customers.”

Ends.
